The Communicator Calls Student Union Election For Week of February 8

IN ORDER TO FILL THE CURRENT VACUUM IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT LEADERSHIP THAT HAS EXISTED SINCE THE EXPIRATION OF THE STUDENT UNION FALL TERM, DECEMBER 31st, 1970; WE THE STAFF OF THE COMMUNICATOR ARE CALLING FOR A STUDENT ELECTION, FOR THE WEEK OF FEBRUARY 8th, TO ALLEVIATE THIS ABSENCE OF RESPONSIBLE LEADERSHIP.

THE WEEK OF FEBRUARY 8th IN THE CONSIDERATION OF THE COMMUNICATOR OFFERS A REASONABLE SPAN OF TIME FOR STUDENTS TO BECOME FAMILIARIZED WITH THE CANDIDATES AND PROVIDE THE CANDIDATES THEMSELVES WITH AMPLE TIME TO PREPARE THEIR PLATFORM AND PRESENT IT IN A MANNER SATISFACTORY TO THE STUDENTS. PREVIOUS ELECTIONS AT THE COLLEGE HAVE USUALLY BEEN HASTILY CALLED, LEAVING THE CANDIDATES INSUFFICIENT TIME TO PREPARE AN IN-DEPTH PLATFORM, WHICH RESULTS IN HAVING STUDENTS CONFUSED AS TO CANDIDATES AND THEIR POLICIES. AND GENERALLY PERMITTING CANDIDATES TO BE RAMRODED INTO OFFICE WITH QUESTIONABLE FEELINGS AS TO THEIR RESPONSIBILITY.

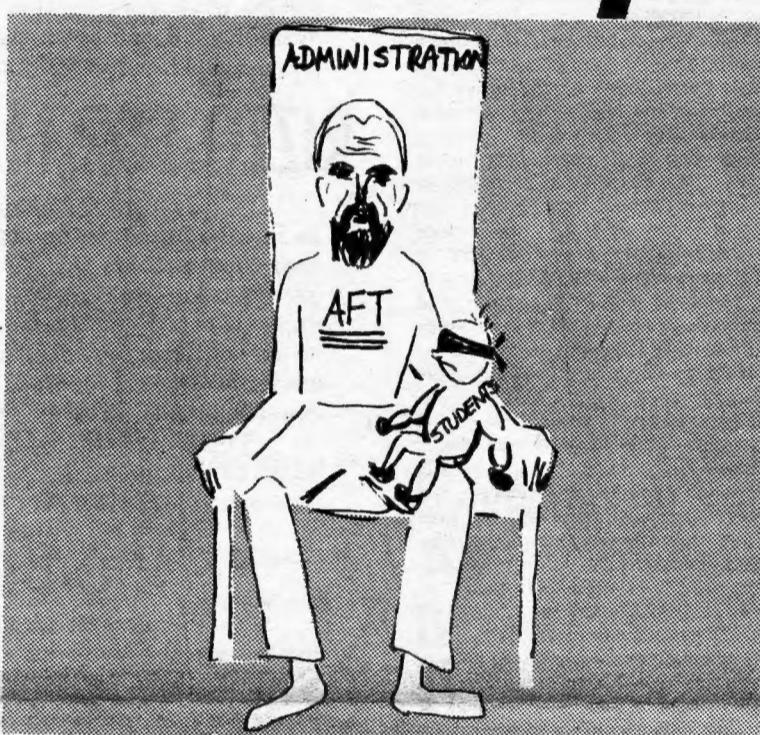

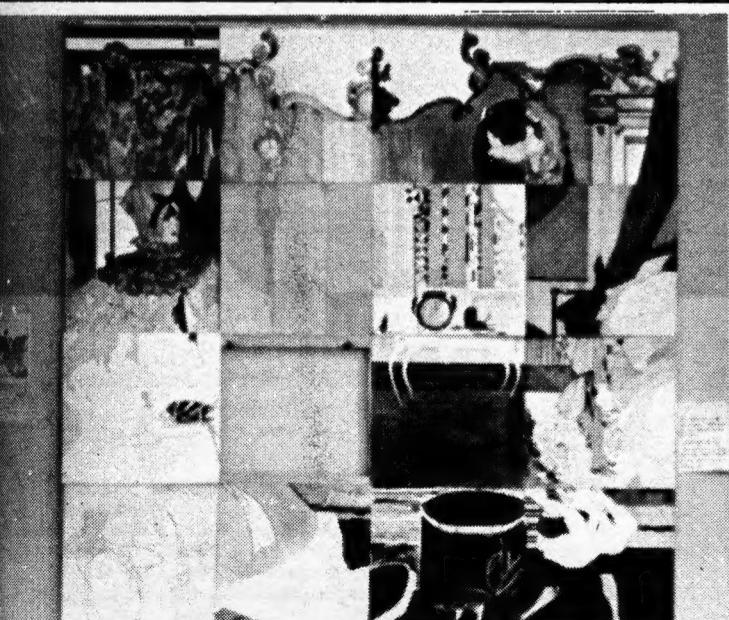

ON TUESDAY, JANUARY 26th, 1971, AT 11:15 IN THE ACADEMIC ANNEX THERE WILL BE A STUDENT UNION MEETING WHERE STUDENTS CAN DEVELOP THE GROUND RULES FOR THE CAMPAIGN AND ELECTION. THE ELECTION, DURING THE WEEK OF FEBRUARY 8th OF RESPONSIBLE LEADERSHIP WILL PROVIDE THE NECESSARY IMPETUS TO MAINTAIN THE GAINS OF PAST STUDENT UNION LEADERSHIP AND ALLOW FURTHER PROGRESS IN STUDENT PARTICIPATION IN COLLEGE AFFAIRS.

STUDENTS REFUSED ADMISSION

Students who refused to pay tuition for Spring, 1971 Semester, because of the faculty strike, will be "punished" by not being allowed to attend school during the day. According to the Registrar, some 25 students withheld payment pending the outcome of the strike.

The entire matter and final decision now lies in the hands of Dr. Paul Sherwood, our beloved Dean of Students, and the Registrar, K. Ganesa Raja.

At press time, very little was being done to help these students. The faculty was informed of the situation, as was Sonny Kanterman. Various administrators have been informed of the problem, but the Machine has stopped. If the wheels don't start turning, it may be time to squirt some oil on the rusted and archaic parts.

FACULTY CONTRACT

The faculty federation contract reads much like any other labor contract, save for the few resolutions on professional involvement in areas related to teaching what, where and how. And as other labor contracts it blunders into the same grand oversight; the CONSUMER'S ROLE, in this case the students, you and I.

The faculty contract leaves no possibility for the development of new student role in any real decision making processes in the college. With the ever growing student involvement and interest in participation, as students have demonstrated in the past quite explicitly, in the college at all levels; it is an inept blunder or a Machiavellian maneuver to find no mention of the possibility of new student participation. The contract is sadly inflexible and cannot possibly contend with student participation in the college decision making now or any time within its two year length.

Thus things still stand with little change. The administration still has final say over everything while being removed from intra-department hassles that gave it so many headaches in the past. The faculty has been granted its own secure little niche in the college with a private political playground to express their pent-up libido. Election to departmental committees and the nomination of departmental heads might grow into more distraction for teachers from the classroom. Students still remain the child on the establishment's knee with a two-year supply of pacifiers.

The Faculty contract was not capable, because of current legal limitations, to take care of students, the students must do this themselves. We, the students, must take the initiative and develop a visible role for ourselves.

← Gallery on the 7th Floor

As the elevator doors draw back on the seventh floor you find yourself gazing at the Beatles set in a cosmic orbit. You walk down the hall ahead and there is a victorian tea party going on. Make a left at the end of the corridor where a vibrating triangle is pouring down from the ceiling. Keep walking and Christ is giving you a stony broken smile. Who's responsible for all this? No — not the Activities Office, but the Art Department.

Since last Spring semester the art department has virtually "decked the halls" with a wide variety of murals, paintings, and sketches. This display serves basically two purposes: (1) to exhibit the works of CCP artisans, (2) brighten the boring gray-green institutional walls.

It has become apparent, however, that this ambitious movement has been stunted by some aggressive critics. Within a period of one month, one particular piece, a victorian tea party, has been defaced piece-by-piece by vandals. In addition, defacement in the form of graffiti and punctures has turned up on other art pieces.

Lovers, save your names for tree trunks. Would-be poets, join the literary magazine. Smut writers, save it for subway stations and rest rooms.

The Communicator staff appreciates and also encourages the art department to extend their works throughout the rest of the college.

Happiness A Warm Contract

On January 11, 1971, the membership of the Faculty Federation of the Community College of Philadelphia (Local 2026 of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO), meeting at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, ratified by a vote of 129 to 29 the contract recommended for their adoption by the Federation negotiating committee. The contract was approved by the Board of Trustees of the College while the Faculty Federation was meeting.

The January 11 meeting followed a series of round-the-clock negotiating sessions from Wednesday through Sunday night and a hot meeting of the Federation on Monday afternoon at which new teachers protested that they were not to be brought up to the tentatively agreed-upon scale according to the explanations provided by the Federation negotiators. A five hour meeting on Tuesday morning changed this point and several others.

The contract is the first between the teachers at the College and their employers. It is also the first college level collective bargaining contract in the State of Pennsylvania and was achieved after the first strike under the provisions of the new public employees law in Pennsylvania. Officers of the Federation believe the seven week strike was the first legally sanctioned strike by public employees in the history of the United States.

Significant gains were achieved in every area of negotiation:

I. Job Security — (1) Anti-discrimination: no discrimination on basis of sex, race, membership in any organization, marital status (except that College is not required to hire spouses full-time in same department); (2) Initial Appointments must be first approved by department committee; (3) Renewals and non-renewal of appointments can be initiated only by department head and the teacher may ask for written statement of cause as well as hearing before Board of Trustees after first year of employment. This renewal procedure is as good as other college's tenure policy. (4) Tenure — granted in 5th year instead of 6th, and a tenured professor may take his cast to binding, impartial arbitration. No college in the United States has a tenure procedure this strong. Tenured professors may be dismissed only for incompetence or physical inability to perform teaching duties; (4) Rank and Tenure given to Counselors and Librarians; (5) Academic freedom — contract language revises and strengthens AAUUP statement, allows binding arbitration on academic freedom grievances; (6) Personnel Records teachers may respond to matters in their files; (7) Reorganization if programs are phased out or positions removed, teachers participate in decision, are placed on preferred rehiring list. (8) Grievance procedure — broadest definition of grievance in any teachers' contract in U.S. and a four step procedure resulting in impartial, binding arbitration by an experienced arbitrator chosen jointly by the union and the administration.

II. Quality Education — (1) Work load to be reduced to 12 contract hours with start of 1972 Fall semester; (2) No more than 3 different class preparations; (4) 37½ hour work week for counselors and librarians, lower ratio of counselors to students and more counselors hired; (5) Released time from normal work load for curriculum advising, publishable research and other; (6) Class size — maximum 32, average 29 per lecture class, 25 for English 102, 23 for English 100-101, 20 for remedial classes; (7) College calendar to include three school-day holiday in Spring; (8) Classrooms fitted with proper equipment including room darkening

Planned Parenthood College Program

BY MURRAY COHEN

Overpopulation may be closer than we think. In only 30 years, if present rates continue, the world will have to provide for a population of more than seven billion — double today's 3.6 billion. At the same time, many of earth's vital resources, the very stuff on which life depends, are shrinking daily.

We still have time to solve the problem of over-population. The only intelligent, humane solution is voluntary family planning. Family planning, alone, can't solve all the world's problems. It can't wipe out poverty or hunger or pollution. But it can buy us the time so that planning and technology can catch up with our population.

Planned Parenthood Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania, located at 1402 Spruce Street, has instituted a program service to colleges in development of family planning, birth control information and population education for students, a first in this area, according to Mr. Allen M. Johnson, president of the association. Mr. Davidson B. Mont, a graduate of Temple University's Social Welfare Program will head plans for college services and will coordinate requests for college programming.

In most cases, colleges do not provide adequate education about birth control, abortion and sex related topics. College students, deprived of such information from college health services and counselors have been demanding family planning services elsewhere. Planned Parenthood, the leading voluntary agency in family planning pioneered in services to colleges after a survey during the school year 1969-70, making their clinics and counseling known through a student outreach program and public information.

It is expected that the greatest effort in the new program will be toward encouragement of college health services, to add birth control consultation to existing medical services. This would insure continuity of service and provide students with better overall health protection.

Currently, there eight clinics with a total of twenty sessions in the association's three county area include college youth as Planned Parenthood clients, making available their medical and nursing staffs of twenty-nine physicians and nurses and the social workers. A pregnancy test clinic was organized last August — the first such service available.

Girls 19 and over no longer need parental permission for clinic services, a policy adopted after passage of an act in the State of Pennsylvania which Governor Shafer signed last February that gave minors freedom for making certain decisions. Any minor that has graduated from high school, has married, has been pregnant or is over 18 may consult to medical, dental and health services for herself or himself without the consult of any other person.

For those below the age of 19 who seek contraceptive service or advice on related matters, counseling is available by a social worker.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Please help me with my grandmother, she has spent a few years in Dachau and has some really wild misconceptions. She believes Rabbi Novoseller, the head of the JDL is Hitler and the membership are storm troopers. She will not believe me they are just a group of good Jewish boys.

Bruce K.

Dear Bruce:

There is no proof or evidence to establish the identities of the membership of Rabbi Novoseller, but we suspect they are simply a group of fascist fanatics.

Editor

Dear Editor:

Who will pay for the faculty raise, not the city or state? Who, us?

Dear Student:

The administration has a couple of million stashed away for such an emergency, but tuition will still go up in the fall.

Who the hell does Sonny Kanterman think he is making all those decisions on his own?

The program for colleges is to be developed with four long range objectives and with the assistance of an advisory committee of Planned Parenthood consultants. Board and staff, together with college faculty and student representatives. Two college students serve on the Planned Parenthood Board of Directors for close coordination and cooperative understanding.

Four long range objectives are: to improve the quality and accessibility of family planning services for students; to provide help and service to administrators and faculty in curriculum planning and counseling in all areas of human sexuality, and stimulate an awareness in the college community of the population problem; to work to make family planning an ongoing part of the educational process for every student, stressing the small family as each individual's responsibility in working towards solutions to population problems, and to develop campus leadership and man power for family planning and population education.

Lectures, debates, symposiums, plays, exhibits and other forms of educational and cultural activity are a part of the program to give the college student an awareness of resources in family planning and understanding of the link between overpopulation and other environmental problems. The program will provide a point of interaction with the student/youth culture and provide leadership to organize badly needed vital services. Planned Parenthood locally has accepted the challenge set forth in the Alameda-San Francisco agency's June 1970 college prospectus: "If voluntary population control is to come about through a new social morality, through social acceptance of the small family concept, then college student, who will be educated opinion leaders of the future, are an important group to reach."

Planned Parenthood is a voluntary agency.

Dear Editor, (you son of a bitch):

All semester you preached in your editorials about interest in the school and participation. Where were you during the strike when we needed everyone we could get in the student union?

PAP FOR THE MASSES

Across the nation there has been a rash of new community colleges espousing a revamped system of education for the masses. In the past the masses were told a high school diploma was adequate, while the rich would assume their place in the best of schools and universities. Yet as America changed and the masses gave way to a growing middle class there became a need for more schools. Urban universities grew, yet not fast enough. Plus now the government feared discontent amongst the masses of low and low middle income groups and needed a method to indoctrinate the restless minds of the children of the poor. Thus we see here at CCP the same formula education, pap for the masses.

The main form of expression of education for the masses is terminal education. Curriculum which culminates in two years, with no further opportunity for advancement. These students are usually tracked into local industry to fill the gap left by technical advances. Glance through your school catalogue and note well the abundance of terminal courses such as library technician, inhalation therapy, medical records, secretarial science, etc.

Take a good look at many of your courses. Do they stimulate clear, logical and original thought or induce a liberal self-perpetuating ego trip? English courses are usually substandard shams fostering idealism without mentioning the discipline necessary to express it. Humanities in condensed version to avoid overtaxing the minds of the masses. The entire liberal arts is pap for the masses in its aberrated form of general studies. Socially and culturally the community college provides pap for the mass consumption in hopes to dull the minds of young who might change the system. CCP can be changed but it takes cooperation between students and the few enlightened faculty. Why not try?

RIZZO FOR MAYOR: Or Rizzo the Stooge

Mayor Tate has always screwed things up by his petty prejudices. Awhile back he felt too important to deal with the trashmen so he stayed in Florida till it was all over. Now he finds himself in the same situation. The party machine he once held such great control over now has left him standing alone. What does Tate do for revenge, he makes a public nomination for the next Mayor, Rizzo. The Democratic machine wants no part of Rizzo the "good cop". How could they control him? Besides, what does Rizzo know about being Mayor? The city is in bad fiscal shape now but with Rizzo anything could happen.

Poor old Rizzo, the nice old cop, sucked into the dirty politics of big city life. Will he make that bid for power, and possibly take on Tate's problems and carry out Tate's revenge, or stay the nice cop? The primary will soon tell.

The Bicentennial and You

As a student in a community college that long awaited new permanent site for the college will wait for the bicentennial and a left over building. Even though the Mayor has eight million dollars committed to a new site he has for the last few years used it for other things, such as a new stadium or more money for the police.

As a citizen of the inner-city the federal government has limited the use of federal funds and they cannot be used for the rehabilitation of neighborhoods. This insures the wasting of the money of the carnival atmosphere of the bicentennial.

The Agriculture Department has admitted that up to one quarter of the poultry samples tested in 1968 and 1969 contained "excessive residues" of arsenic.

The officials hastily add that the arsenic is "organic". Now that people know that organic food is good for you, the Department hopes we don't mind ingesting organic poison. Murder-mystery arsenic is of the "inorganic" type, officials say, and is a lot more toxic than organic arsenic. Just how toxic organic arsenic is, however, they don't say.

Sensuous Woman Lavender Vision/Lns

BOSTON (LNS) — Sex is an institution. In an oppressive society like America, it reflects the same ideology as other major institutions. It is goal-oriented, profit and productivity oriented. It is a prescribed system, with a series of correct and building activities aimed toward the production of a single goal: climax.

I'm a lesbian. A lot of people can't figure out "what we do", how we make love without a penis around for the final consummation. Sex as an institution is so totally tied up with the penis and its goal that men assume there must be some poor substitute for their noble item.

For me, coming out meant an end to sex. It's dead and gone in my life. I reject that institution totally. Sex means oppression, it means exploitation. It serves the needs of men. It has little to do with pleasure for the greatest mass of oppressed people: women.

Physical contact and feelings have taken a new form: sensuality. The women's movement in general, especially at the beginning, and gay feminism now is a fantastically sensual experience for me. I love my body and the bodies of my sisters. Sexually it is now a creative non-institutionalized experience. It is sucking and rubbing and cuddling and sadness. It is holding and rocking and kissing and licking. Its only goal is sensuality and pleasure. It does not exist for the Big Orgasm. It exists for being nice. Our sensuality may or may not include genital experience, it may or may not be the beginning of the ending of the experience.

To make good love with women, I don't want to have to 'produce' anything. Except pleasure. And that can be at any level or in any form. The sensuality I feel has transformed my life, has solved the contradiction between my mind and my body because the energies for our feminist revolution are the same as the energies of our love for women. When we feel good about someone we may sleep together. That could mean a lot of things from hugs to climax to cuddling to being very close by not touching. We are free to act without pressure. I refuse to feel like I must make a decision about whether to "put out" or not. There is no such thing as putting out among us. There is no set goal to our sexuality.

The whole language is oppressive. It is white male-oriented and heterosexual. One word that must go is "sex" because that describes a way of being physical that can only draw up very bad memories for a lot of us. We must use it only in referring to that oppressive institution, not to any new forms we are developing. Having sex means accepting a set of criteria for "success" that we did not set up and develop among ourselves.

Sperm is coin. And that whole system of exchange necessarily excludes us as lesbians. We can't pretend that those few flaps of skin that make up the masculine apparatus are just a few objective ectodermal gatherings. That stuff is the proof of a right to have access to privilege. Some men reject that privilege, but they always have the possibility of whipping it out in an emergency and asserting their privilege.

We are building a revolution which isn't based on privilege. And we must have a new language and aesthetic to describe it. Lesbianism is not a sexual perversion: it has nothing to do with sex. It is not another way to "do it": It is a whole other way to have contact.

Heterosexuality and lesbianism are two forms of physical contact. But that's as far as the similarity goes. Sensuality is formless and amorphous. It can grow and expand as we feel it. It is shared by everyone involved. Sex with men was like doing alienated labor as that one with power could make good profit off my surplus labor. Sensuality with women is a collective experience growing out of our struggle.

Radical lesbian sensuality is a form which I myself am helping create. It is not an institution existing outside of me, like sex is. It is me, us, as it comes out of our new consciousness.

THE ROYAL TOILET

By PAUL BLONDIN

The Communicator, an instrument of truth and knowledge, has always said that an informed student body is a strong student body. To this end, we try to present a variety of informative articles. Since knowledge knows no bounds, the range of our articles must be limitless.

Therefore, to broaden your inner horizons, we present the following article as the beginning of an exciting new dimension in learning.

The Royal toilet (standing type found in men's rooms) is an outstanding feature of Community College rest rooms. Attached to the tiled bathroom wall about one and one half foot above the floor, this vertical, rectangular "bowl" is an unquestioned half the population.

Glistening white porcelain and shiny stainless steel fixtures make the Royal toilet look worthy of its name. Finger movement of the flush handle make it a joy to operate. Guaranteed the life of the unit, a recoil spring turns the handle to its original position everytime you pull on it.

At the bottom of the bowl are sixteen scientifically placed drainage holes to allow the efficient removal of waste. Flushing the yellow liquid away is an abundant supply of Philadelphia water, released in its cleansing blow by the flush handle.

This flushing system is a vast improvement over the previous CARRY'EM and CARRY'EM SYSTEM used at C.C.P. in earlier years. This method involved the use of buckets moved and emptied at regular intervals. Both systems, though, have serious drawback. Neither one can insure 100 percent gathering of urine expelled by the human body. This results in what the designers of the men's rooms have termed "misdirection accumulations" or "puddles." Since either of these systems has failed to relieve this only serious flaw, it is hoped that a petition campaign recently initiated by some concerned students will force the administration to install absorbent rubber mats under the Royals.

An irate spokesman for the Vagabonds Scott Umbutu (whose name is being held by request) stated that everything looked very strange the Vagabonds who for the past couple of years or so, resided in the lobby eating Zonkers and drinking "Dorothy's Amazing cure-all and Elixer" without any disturbance.

After much hostilities and picketing of the college building by the Vagabonds the Wizard of Cozbo finally intervened. The Wizard reversed Tick-Tock's proclamation and ordered that the college immediately start the building of an Annex complex for the undisturbed residency of the Vagabonds. The decisions of the Wizard were deemed by all members of the party "who have been just for all."

A wonderful convenience, the Royal toilet is truly designed to meet the needs of today's student. The Communicator hopes the reader may now, in some new way, appreciate this fine appliance.

Peace Movement Rejects Charges Against Berrigan Brothers and Davidon

The following statement was issued by an emergency meeting of peace leaders and activists which took place Thursday, January 14, at the Friends Institute, 20 South 12th Street, Philadelphia.

"Several people have been charged with conspiracy to blow up the heating systems of government buildings in Washington and to kidnap Henry Kissinger. Among those charged are Philip Berrigan and Daniel Berrigan; William Davidon has been named as co-conspirator.

"We regard the indictments as a most serious and purposeful attack on the entire resistance to the Vietnam War, intended to silence all peace-loving people in the United States.

"We know these men and believe that the plans alleged in the indictments are inconsistent with the philosophy of action which the accused have followed. We believe that they would not be involved in any project which bring suffering or death to any of their fellow-men.

"That the Berrigans joined with others in destroying draft card files is a publicly acknowledged fact. For this violation of law they are presently serving prison terms. Their reason for that act was to challenge the ethical basis of a law which punishes one man for burning paper while applauding another for burning people."

The statement was signed by: Sister Anne Boniface; Helen M. Carroll (Women's International League for Peace and Freedom); and Friends Peace Committee; Nancy Callary (A Quaker Action Group); Judith Chomsky (Resistance); Jim Dugan; Jim Estes (American Friends Service Committee); Sarah Fahy (Catholic Peace Fellowship); Father David Gracie (Episcopal Diocese); Joan Hubbard (Health & Welfare Council); Jaap van Lierie; John P. McNamee; Sister Patricia McNeal; Marty McNichol; Brother Hugh Maguire (Christian Brothers); Jack Malinowski (Clergy and Laymen Concerned about Vietnam); Salvatore Mastriano (National Peace Action Day Coalition); Joseph Miller (SANE); Mary Morrell (Women Strike for Peace); Bertl Newman (Womens International League for Peace & Freedom); Berrigans and Davidon; David Nirenberg; Candy Putter (Resistance); Dr. Robert Rutman (SANE); Helena Sheehan (War Tax Resistance); Michael Sletson (SANE); Adrian Stoddard; Jeanne Walsh; Mark Zola (National Peace Action Day Coalition). Organizations are for identification only.

America's fabulous screen personality, Gloria Swanson stars in the Broadway hit comedy, "Butterflies Are Free," opening a two week engagement at the Forrest Theatre, Jan. 18 thru Jan. 30. The show by Leonard Gershe is a kooky, compassionate story of a young man's restless search for his independence complicated by a possessive mother, nutty neighbor, and children's story author. Featured in the show are David Huffman, Kristina Callahan and David Toll.

Letters to Editor

Dear Editor:

It is said that there is a time and a place for everything. However, I cannot see what time or what place could possibly be indicated for personal character assassinations. The current editor (Tom Martin) of the school's newspaper and selected members of his staff have embarked upon for selfish and political motives a relentless pursuit of a diabolical diatribe aimed at destroying all of the accomplishments of your Student Union. The Student Union has achieved a high level of influence upon the faculty, administration, city officials and as of the present, state officials.

Your Student Union has always been working for you. Back in the Spring of 1970 it was the Student Union who gained full participation for students on the various standing committees. It was the Student Union who removed an unjust penalty of $10.00 for an "F" grade. It was the Student Union who through the courts persuaded the faculty to come back to work in September (after 1st walkout). It was the Student Union who collected and pursued public pressure to end the recent six week strike.

Why then Tom Martin, are you trying to ruin the excellent work of the Student Union and personally attack its leadership?

To use your own words, Tom Martin, "Who's kidding whom."
